

Elevating Finance with Technology

Finance Yard is a European ecosystem combining topics from traditional finance, blockchains, and compliance. Finance Yard is designed to connect people, organizations, and financial hubs to shape opinions as well as influence for a better future.

Blockchains and digital assets are essential innovations that have the potential to transform the financial industry. Their accessibility, speed, efficiency, lower costs, transparency, and security make them complementary to traditional financial systems.

Finance Yard believes that blockchain adoption in finance can only happen with regulatory clarity and compliant solutions. The goals of Finance Yard are:

Educate and Network

Finance Yard provides information to anyone from the financial industry to understand why and how blockchains can be used in a way which is compliant to regulatory or business requirements. Finance Yard is connecting professionals from the financial industry, official bodies, finance hubs, entrepreneurs, investors, lawyers, developers, students, and like-minded people. For this reason, Finance Yard is building an online community as well as hosting events in Germany and elsewhere.

Build and Incubate

Finance Yard is helping its members to work together with others from the network. Together, we are building relevant solutions in the finance field leveraging blockchain technology, while respecting compliance. Finance Yard is supporting its members to build digital solutions and/or get new business ideas off the ground.

Invest and Scale

Finance Yard is connecting its members with relevant partners to support that solutions with market fit get a funding and/or adoption. Our network experts may also invest into your business idea and scale it to the next level.

The future is now. Finance  Yard
